Al-Ahliyya Amman University is the first private university in Jordan and the first Arab private university in the Middle East. Established in 1990 to be a leading institute in private higher education, it is recognized and accredited locally and internationally, it is also a member of Arab, Islamic and international university unions.

AAU holds eight faculties:

Faculty of Information Technology established in 2001	he Faculty of Scientific Research established in 2005	Faculty of Nursing established in 2006	Faculty of Architecture & Design established in 2009	Faculty of Allied medical sciences established in 2019

The AAU occupies a head position among institutes of higher education, not only at the local level, but also at the level of the Arab world. The AAU always seeks excellence and improvements in the quality of higher education outcomes, through the adoption of methodologies and strategies that depend on building a quality control and monitoring systems of all faculties, academic departments, academic centers and administrative offices.

Within this framework, and to keep pace with the rapid technological development in the information revolution, The AAU adopts information technology and e-learning and employs this in its educational systems. To this effect, The AAU has established Al-Hourani center for e-learning, the first center in the region.

On this gorgeous occasion, I am pleased to welcome the esteemed followers of the electronic magazine of Al-Ahliyya Amman University. As I express my happiness for joining the distinguished elite professors at the University, it is my pleasure to harness my entire academic and research experiences for the benefit of this prestigious University represented by its presidency, students and the concerned. I also aspire, through my new position as the Dean of Scientific Research and the Director of Al- Hourani E-Center, to exert my utmost effort wholeheartedly in this respect.

And if the achievements are a measure of progress in the global scales, Al-Ahliyya Amman University has made tremendous steps in this regard and has borne fruit in all academic, research, pioneering, sports and training levels, cultural improvement and community services. AAU has obtained the five platinum crowns from the British "ASIC" Organization for International Accreditation and has been rated four stars by the "QS" World University Rankings in addition to obtaining the Certificate of the International Standards Conformity of the Risk Management System (ISO 31000).

In the field of international accreditations of university specializations, the Networks & Information Security Specialization at AAU received an accreditation certificate. It is worth noting that these achievements were the result of a robust five-year strategic plan based on a number of dimensions aiming to shed light on the quality of its outcomes and to enhance the AAU status and leadership at the local and global levels.

Scientific research is an essential pillar that immensely contributes to the progress of institutions and countries, and linking them to reality where the local needs is its supreme goal. The University's belief in these two pillars has led it to enhance scientific research on the one hand and to assist faculty and research members on the other hand. Thus, it has spread the spirit of creativity among the faculty members and has activated a package of motivating procedures such as providing incentives in the event of publication in the scientific refereed journals. AAU also has provided incentives for research citation and for participation in refereed scientific conferences. Furthermore, it encouraged participation in research projects that serve local and global needs according to national priorities in various vital areas such as sustainable energy, health sciences, information technology and engineering.

The Deanship of Scientific Research is making unremitting efforts to upgrade the level of scientific research by offering courses and workshops specifically organized to develop research skills in addition to signing several local and international agreements for joint research cooperation, including an agreement with the Queen's University of Belfast and the University of Bradford agreement.

Al-Balqa Journal for Research & Studies also has made steady steps towards globalization, after achieving a prominent status at the local and Arab levels, as it obtained a high impact factor at the Arab level. Furthermore, Al-Balqa Journal was included in several global databases, including: Google Scholars, Ebsco and Arcif.

As Al-Balqa Editorial Body believes in the necessity of expanding its scope and enhancing its presence, the English version of Al-Balqa Journal of Health & Applied Sciences was launched and its first issue will be published in the mid of 2020, God's willing.

Al-Hourani E-learning Center is considered the second pillar for promoting scientific development at the university, thus, it was equipped with the most up to date educational techniques and with the latest equipment, technologies and systems to facilitate the use of information technology in the educational process. As the mission of the Center stems from developing electronic services, we consider it necessary to computerize the services of all AAU facilities. This process was firstly applied in the Deanship of Scientific Research by computerizing its forms which greatly contribute to a significant reduction in paperwork and complex procedures that consume a lot of time and material and human resources. The Center also seeks to develop the teaching and learning electronic experiences of faculty members and to enhance the e-learning skills of students to support critical thinking and to generate responsible discussion in addition to providing advice and services to the local community.

The Most Distinguished Achievements of Amman Al-Ahliyya University

Year after year, Al-Ahliyya Amman University strives to maintain its prestigious reputation gained over the past thirty years by achieving a number of goals that it has set within its plan to strengthen its leadership position as the first private University in the Hashemite Kingdom of Jordan and as one of the most prominent universities of high quality in higher education in the Arab world. Hence, from the beginning of the academic year 2018/2019-, AAU began implementing a robust plan for global excellence by developing its policies, improving its academic programs and benefiting from its previous experiences. Thanks to Allah for enabling the University to realize the following achievements during this year:

- 1- AAU involved itself in the Times Ranking for the first time and ranked 301+ in the University Impact Rankings 2019 issued by the Times Higher Education.
- 2- AAU's Business Incubator started its programs by providing financial, technical and legal support for all entrepreneurial projects of AAU students to encourage them to establish their own companies and develop their entrepreneurial thinking.
- 3- AAU signed a cooperation agreement with the Technology and Entrepreneurship Center at Harvard University, which is the first of its kind in the Middle East to support the programs of the Business Incubator.
- 4- AAU was named as a founding member in the "Make Impact Consortium", which includes ten international universities led by the American University of MIT, which ranked the first in the world. It is worth mentioning that AAU began to benefit from this Consortium by dispatching a group of faculty members to the MIT University to be trained on the use of the latest techniques and academic methods.
- 5- AAU obtained the full accreditation as a Premier institution from the ASIC Organization.
- 6- AAU received a four-star rating from the QS Stars Rating 2019. The detailed results are as follows: Pharmacy & Pharmacology, teaching, facilities, universality, social responsibility, and comprehensiveness received a 5- star – rating, employment and academic development received a 4- star - rating.
- 7- AAU got involved in the QS Arab Universities Ranking 2020 for the first time and obtained the 101110- rank. It is worth mentioning that the number of participating Arab universities exceeds 1300.
- 8- AAU obtained the five platinum crowns from the "ASIC" Organization for International Accreditation. Thus, AAU is the first university in the Middle East to achieve this high rank.
- 9- AAU ranked 256 globally and 5 locally in the UI Green Metric 2019 of the most sustainable universities.
- 10- AAU obtained the Certificate of International Standards Conformity of the Risk Management System (ISO 31000) from the International TQCSI.

Al-Sharabati Snatches the Light and Reaps the Golden Taekwondo Grand Prix

On Sunday, 2019/10/20, the National Team star and the AAU Taekwondo player won the golden grand prix championship in Sofia / Bulgaria after his dramatic victory in the final against the Egyptian player Saif Issa with a score of 10-12. This medal bore a new achievement for the Jordanian Taekwondo sport, where the Grand Prix is one of the most important and most powerful taekwondo championships in the world. This medal became the sixth Jordanian medal in these championships since 2011. It is worth to mention that, the player Saleh Al-Sharabati is one of the Marketing students in the School of Business. He along with the stars Mohammed Abu Ghosh and Zaid Al- Halawani were accredited for achieving the first place cup for AAU in the taekwondo championship which was organized by the Sport Union for the students of Jordanian universities.

The AAU Department of Film, Television & Theater Design Hosts the Distinguished Jordanian Artists, Amal Al-Dabbas & Zuhair Al-Nubani

As a continuation of the AAU endeavor to spread the culture of creativity and embrace innovators, the AAU Department of Film, Television & Theater Design at the Faculty of Architecture & Design hosted the two distinguished Jordanian artists, the wonderful actress Amal Al-Dabbas and the distinctive actor Zuhair Al Noubani. It is worth mentioning that the two Jordanian artists represented a milestone in the history of Jordanian and Arab drama. The AAU President, Prof. Sari Hamdan received the guests in his office on Monday, 2019/11/18. After welcoming the guests, Prof. Hamdan expressed his delight to meet them and referred to the AAU's interest and commitment to art and artists through providing its continuous support to the artistic movement in the Jordanian society. This reception was attended by Mrs. Enas Al-Hourani, the Director of the AAU Public & International Relations Department, Dr. Rama Al-Rabadi, the Dean of the Faculty of Architecture & Design, Dr. Omran Hasan, the Deputy Dean and Prof. Jamal Ajour, the Head of the Department along with Dr. Margo Haddad, a faculty member in the department.

During this visit, the guests were briefed on the facilities of the Department of Film, Television & Theater Design and the creative productions of the students. The guests also toured the Arena Complex which is equipped with the most up-to-date technologies and equipment needed for Art Industry. Then, a discussion was held titled "Challenges of the Jordanian Drama Industry in Light of Regional & Global Competition". The session was attended by the Dean of the Faculty, who expressed her joy at meeting the two guests. The Dean mentioned that the Faculty, with its various specializations, aims to open up to the local community in order to strengthen partnership with its institutions. The Dean also touched on the impact of art on advancing the social artistic taste. The session then turned into an open dialogue between the guests and the students of the department who raised many questions related to the labor market and the possibility of engaging them in artistic works. It is worth mentioning that this event comes in the framework of activating communication with institutions concerned with the artistic movement in Jordanian community.

AAU Receives the Banner of the Sports Union of Jordanian Universities from its Counterpart Al-Zaytoonah University

The AAU President, Prof. Sari Hamdan received the Banner of the Sports Union of Jordanian Universities from the Acting President of Al-Zaytoonah University, Prof. Muhammad Al-Majali. Prof. Sari Hamdan said that AAU intends to add to the achievements of Al-Zaytoonah University during its hosting the Union for two years. He also pointed out that the University will seek to link the Sport Union of Universities with the Olympic Committee and international universities. Prof. Hamdan added that the Union's base in terms of participation will be expanded not limited to local and Arab participation, especially as Jordanian universities have students who won the first places and golden medals in international participation. He pointed out that the AAU student Saleh Al-Sharabati won the Golden Grand Prix Sport Taekwondo Championship held in Bulgaria a few days ago. In his speech, Prof. Sari thanked Al-Zaytoonah University for hosting the banner of the Sport Union of Jordanian Universities for two years, which witnessed distinctive achievements and he also thanked the directors of sports activity in universities for their diligence and work. In turn, Prof. Muhammad Al-Majali, the Acting President of Al-Zaytoonah University, said that today's meeting bears two implications: the first one is unhappy feeling because we will miss all creative persons who exerted their utmost efforts to support all activities held in Al-Zaytoonah University during the period of its hosting the Union banner. The second one is delightful feelings since the Union will move to one of the prestigious universities in the homeland, Al-Ahliyya Amma University headed by Prof. Sari Hamdan, who has an excellent experience in sports and who will realize new achievements to be added to the achievements of Al-Zaytoonah University. Dr. Munir Al-Afaishat, the Former Secretary General of the Sport Union of Universities highlighted through a video the most prominent participations and achievements of the Union during the past two years. It is worth mentioning that this event was attended by Dr. Mustafa Al-Atiyat, the AAU Dean of Student Affairs, a number of deans of student affairs in public and private universities and a number of members of technical committees and administrators from different universities. At the end of the ceremony, Prof. Sari Hamdan handed Prof. Muhammad Al-Majali an honorary shield and the banner of the Sport Union of the Jordanian Universities was handed over to Al-Ahliyya Amman University.

AAU will receive a number of students from the Belgian University of (Libre de Brussels) at the beginning of the second semester of the same academic year. This cooperation aims to provide the University students with the opportunity for increasing their experience, integrating with other university students and studying different scientific curricula in addition to dealing with new communities and practicing the language with native speakers.

AAU Celebrates the 30th Anniversary of Its Establishment

AAU held a ceremony to mark its 30th anniversary on Friday, 2019/9/27 in the Arena Complex at the University. This event was attended by a number of Excellencies, deputies, presidents of universities, academics, businessmen and officials in the country in addition to artists, intellectuals and a crowd of journalists, media professionals and invitees. The ceremony was also attended by the Chairman and members of the AAU Board of Trustees, the Chairman and the members of the Board of Directors, the AAU President and members of the academic & administrative staffs. In his speech, Dr. Maher Al-Hourani, the Chairman of the AAU Board of Directors, welcomed the audience and said: "Thirty years ago, AAU was the idea and ambition of its founder the late Ahmad Al-Hourani. He set it out and spread its fragrance over the country and made its way to glory as the first private University in Jordan. This ceremony and any other ones are always held under the patronage of Dr. Ahmad Al-Hourani, who is physically absent but spiritually present among us." Dr. Maher added: "After thirty years of its founding, AAU is proud of seven: its founder Dr. Ahmad Al-Hourani, its distinguished academic & administrative staffs and its graduates who are the basis of the University excellence and remarkable achievements. We are glad to see sons and daughters of our graduates and even their grandchildren studying at the University. AAU is also proud of its achievements in terms of programs and specializations, in its international classifications and the quality of its graduates. It is proud of you our attendance, because you are our partners in success and giving. The University is proud of the lofty Balqa and Al-Salt city for being the source of culture, thought and science as well as its good people. AAU is also proud of our beloved Jordan, its people and its Hashemite leadership, under His Majesty King Abdullah II." At the end of his speech, Dr. Maher welcomed the audience again and thanked Mrs. Abeer Hourani for organizing this ceremony which showed the best image of AAU. In his speech, Prof. Sari Hamdan, the AAU President, welcomed all the participating guests in this gorgeous ceremony which celebrates the 30th anniversary of the AAU establishment. He congratulated Al-Hourani family members, who expressed their affiliation and loyalty to the late Dr. Ahmad Al-Hourani and the educational process. He pointed out that he is proud of the unprecedented developments in the University faculties and specializations which he witnessed during his career march in this institution as he was the Dean of AAU Student Affairs, then as a short time president of AAU and recently as the AAU president. Then he said: "We had a plan beginning from the last academic year to put the AAU on the map of international universities. The University was able to carry out this plan by signing many agreements with the top American and European universities such as Harvard and MIT as well as with a number of British universities and others. These academic agreements aimed to raise the University level and to obtain international rankings which AAU did not previously pursue." Prof. Hamdan added: "Indeed, AAU realized many achievements at the international level, the latest of which was the University's QS Ranking. According to this Ranking, AAU obtained four stars and the AAU Faculty of Pharmacy gained five stars as well. The University achieved the 301 rank internationally in the Economic & Social Impact according to the "Times" World Ranking. In addition, the University obtained the full international accreditation from the global "ASIC" as well as it gained the American accreditation "ABET" for the Networks & Information Security Specialization." Prof. Sari added that: "While the Commission of Accreditation for Higher Education Institutions in Jordan withheld the Quality Control Certificate from the AAU Faculty of Pharmacy, the Faculty achieved the full -5star QS Ranking." He stressed the unlimited support that the AAU Board of Trustees and the Chairman of the AAU Board of Directors provide to the University to achieve its progress since the main objective they seek is to develop this prestigious scientific institution. Dr. Anas Al-Saud, the AAU Assistant President for International Accreditation & Classification, delivered a speech during which he announced that the University received four stars according to the "QS" World Ranking and congratulated the University and its staffs for this achievement. After that, He explained the criteria of this ranking and said that the University obtained five stars in five criteria and four stars in two criteria according to the following: •Pharmacy & Pharmaceutical Sciences 5 stars •Teaching 5 stars •Facilities 5 stars •Recruitment/Employment 4 stars •Globalization 5 stars •Social responsibility 5 stars •Academic Development 4 stars •Inclusiveness 5 stars On the sidelines of the ceremony, a dinner party was held, where a number of AAU employees were honored and a video clip of the University's founder, late Dr. Ahmed Al-Hourani was displayed in addition to another video about the faculties and buildings of the University since its inception to this day. The ceremony which included many artistic sections continued with one performance by the Lebanese musician Haneen. The Jordanian Orchestra also took part in this event as well as the rising Egyptian singer May Mustafa who thrilled the audience by her songs and her beautiful voice.

On behalf of the University, Mrs. Enas Al- Hourani, the Director of the AAU Public & International Relations Department signed the agreement with the Executive Director of the Crown Prince Foundation, Dr. Tamam Mango.

I write these words that express my pride as one of the graduates of this prestigious scientific edifice, Al-Ahliyya Amman University, which is the first of its kind locally and regionally that always aspires to occupy world-class positions.

My AAU academic march began in 2006 when I enrolled in the Graphic Design Major and obtained my Bachelor Degree in 2010. After graduation, I set out in the labor market, qualified with the knowledge I received from a group of distinguished professors. This had a distinctive impact on my professional life by obtaining important job positions in leading institutions in the field of graphic design for a period of four years. Then I went back to the University again to work as a research and teaching assistant for two years, at the end of which I was rewarded with a scholarship to pursue my postgraduate studies in Australia where I specialized in the Interactive Media field, which was the first of its kind in the world at that time. It is worth mentioning that this specialization which is concerned with integrating the user of media to interact with the visual content processed on computers was introduced at the Griffith University in 2015. I returned to my beloved University, Al-Ahliyya Amman University, which has always believed in the capabilities of its graduates intending to give back its favor. For the second time, I had the privilege of joining its faculty to become then a colleague of my distinguished professors.

Last but not least, I extend my gratitude to Al-Ahliyya Amman University represented by its administrative and academic bodies and its owners who have spared nothing to complete the march of their late father, Dr. Ahmed Al-Hourani, may Allah have mercy on his soul.

The AAU Faculty of Law organized a meeting for the new students registered in the first semester of the academic year 2020-2019 in the Musa Al-Saket Hall for Mock Trials. The meeting was attended by the Dean of the Faculty of Law, Dr. Mohammed Al-Thunaibat and the faculty members. The meeting was based on briefing the students on the university code of ethics and introducing students to the established university way of life and its traditions. The Dean congratulated the students for choosing AAU to specialize in the oldest private law faculty in the Arab world from which graduates are equipped with knowledge of law and who nowadays hold high positions in their societies. During this meeting, the Dean, the Vice Dean and the Head of the Department reviewed the various academic issues and the curricular and co-curricular programs that the University and the Faculty are planning to achieve to serve students. The Vice Dean, Dr. Saleh Hijazi noted the importance of creating familiarity and respect among students and their instructors. He stressed the need to stay away from the phenomenon of violence and to seek assistance of the administrative staff members to solve any problem that may face them. And he also emphasized the need to cooperate with the Deanship of Student Affairs. In this meeting, students received introductory brochures about the University and the Faculty as well as their study plan. The Head of the Department, Dr. Shaima Abu Farha, explained the study plans for the students and introduced them to the electronic registration and how to seek the assistance from the academic advisory. She also stressed the importance of establishing a sound legal system and laying the ethics of the legal profession for law school students from the moment they enter its thresholds. At the end of the welcoming meeting, an open dialogue was held, whereby the faculty administration received the students' inquiries and suggestions. Meanwhile, the Dean concluded the meeting and wished the students success.

Inaugurating the 7th International Conference of Hearing & Balance Organized by the AAU, the Arab Academy and the German University of Lubeck

On behalf of Her Royal Highness Princess Muna Al-Hussein, Her Royal Highness Princess Sana Asem inaugurated the 7th Annual International Conference on Hearing & Balance Health. The conference which took place on Thursday, 2019/9/19 was organized by AAU, the Arab Academy of Audiovestibulogy and the German University of Lubeck. The Chairman of the 7th International Conference on Hearing and Balance Health, Dr. Mohamed Dia, welcomed all guests and participants from all over the world. He also pointed out that the seventh conference, titled "Hearing & Balance Health" was held for the third time in Amman in cooperation with the Arab Academy of Audiovestibulogy, AAU and the German University of Lubeck with the participation of the Jordanian Ministry of Health and the Jordanian Royal Medical Services. In his speech, Prof. Sari Hamdan, the AAU President, said that AAU is proud of holding the 7th Conference on Hearing Health in Jordan which culminates the outstanding success of the previous six conferences where three of which were held in Jordan. Prof. Sari Hamdan called on all academic and other institutions to follow path of this sophisticated model of this effective partnership between AAU, the Arab Academy and the German University of Lubeck in addition to the institutions and supporters that contribute to the success of this conference. He also added that Jordan always seeks cooperation and Arab solidarity in hosting brothers and friends from different countries of the world. In his part, the Secretary General of the Ministry of Health, Dr. Hikmat Abu Al-Foul, (representative of the Minister of Health Dr. Saad Jaber), confirmed the importance of holding such a conference, which came at the generous initiative of the University and its partners. Dr. Abu Al-Foul elucidated that the Ministry of Health developed a balanced national plan that aimed to combat deafness, hearing and ear care through strategies. These strategies include the National Newborn Hearing Screening Program, setting up preventive measures to combat deafness and hearing impairment, erecting specialized awareness and rehabilitative programs for hearing patients and providing them with hearing aids and whatever necessary for cochlear implants in addition to organizing awareness campaigns and training programs for technical staff and society. He pointed out that "we are all looking forward to a better future for our society as Jordan is implementing the strategies of the National Plan to combat deafness, including conducting the Newborn Hearing Screening in hospitals". He added that a national committee was formed years ago, in addition to the Supreme Committee for Cochlear Implantation under the initiative of His Royal Highness Prince Al Hussein Bin Abdullah II and the main centers in the Kingdom, which have all the devices available for hearing evaluation at the public and private levels and hospitals of the Royal Medical Services. It is worth mentioning that these centers are concerned with hearing, treatment and rehabilitation. During his brief speech, Dr. Khaled Al-Essa, the President of the Arab Academy of Audiovestibulogy, explained the objectives of the Academy, as it is a non-profit organization that contributes to helping the community and relies on its partners who support it. It is noteworthy that the conference aims at continuing medical education for specialists in hearing, balance, speech, nose, ear, throat (NET) and pediatric. The conference also sheds light on new scientific research as well as global participation and experience exchange among specialists in different fields. It also highlights four axes including: cochlear implants, surgery, diagnosis, treatment and rehabilitation, speech therapy, basics of hearing aids and workshops for hearing and balance.
